

NTRLS@YourLibrary

How can the NTRLS staff serve its member libraries and at the same time build team work and cohesion? NTRLS @ Your Library is the answer. This program will place the NTRLS staff at a member library for one day to assist the library in a variety of possible tasks. Here are some examples:

- A library is painting, or repainting the children's area of the library. NTRLS staff can assist the library with this project by devoting a day to painting.
- A library wants to create a more appealing Public Access Computer space.
- A library needs to create a Teen area.
- A library needs to move collections from one area to another.

Member Libraries will apply online at www.ntrls.org for the opportunity of having NTRLS @ their library for a day. Selection will be based on need and project details. Preference will be given to projects that have long-term consequences for the library. One NTRLS @ Your Library day will occur every quarter on the second Wednesday of the month.

Dates available for service:

December 9, 2009
March 10, 2010
June 9, 2010

Application Deadlines:

November 25, 2009
February 24, 2010
May 26, 2010